THE FRANKFORT COMMONWEALTH.—The publication of this paper was suspended during the occupancy of the city of Frankfort by the rebels, and when they left they took with them all the paper and printing ink belonging to the establishment, leaving the largest proportion of the establishment. The papers by mail, and it being impracticable at this time to send the paper by mail, owing to a general suspension of mail facilities in the State, it will continue suspended for a short time, when we hope to continue its publication without further interference by the rebels. oct16 43&w1 Honors, Hughes & Co.

A writer in the Cincinnati Gazette of yesterday, tells us that Gen. E. Kirby Smith of the rebel army is. He is the son of the late Joseph L. Smith, Esq., first a lawyer of Litchfield, Connecticut, then an army officer in the war of 1812, later U. S. Judge for the District of Indiana, where at St. Augustine, his son General Edward Kirby Smith, was born. He is about thirty-eight years old. He is a graduate of West Point, and served in the Mexican war. He some years ago thought of turning his attention to the ministry, but the d—l of secession seized him and made him a rebel to his country.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN.—A good stout kind of a man, about the bigness of a boy. Had on, when he left, a straw hat, with a stone-brace, clock stockings and dimmish shoes—had his heels greased with vinegar. The reward is a girl of buttermilk, churned in a cat's horn, and no reward for catching him. J. P. T., Jr.

THE "Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society" of the First Ward, and all lady ladies, are requested to meet at the residence of Mrs. Henry Wolford, on Jefferson street, between Campbell and Wenzel streets, this (Friday) afternoon at 2 P. M.

SAMUEL RONE PAROLED.—We learn that Samuel Rone, who was implicated in the killing of policeman Ben. Rust, last winter, and was tried and sent to the penitentiary for a term of ten years, was yesterday paroled by Governor Robinson.

WE learn that about eighty of Humphrey Marshall's men, broke their guns and threw them into the streets at Lexington, the other day, saying they were tired of "old Tub" as a commander, and went home.

MARKET STREET, from Floyd to Preston, which has been in a bad condition for some time past, is being thoroughly repaired and improved. We are glad to see it, for no square in the city has needed it worse than this one.

NOTICE.—If Mrs. Deilla Sikes is in the city or vicinity, she will find her husband, who has been looking for her, at the Eagle House, in Jeffersonville, Ind. She will call as soon as possible. oct17 422

THE loyal ladies of the Seventh Ward, are earnestly requested to meet at the residence of Judge Muir, at 103 o'clock this morning. A full attendance is desired.

IMPROVEMENT.—Messrs. Geo. Brown & Co., the great photographers, on Fourth street, have attached a new and extensive skylight to their gallery.

Reported Great Battle.

Kirby Smith's Forces Routed.

Large Quantities of Supplies Captured.

Rebels Scattered—Throwing Away Their Arms.

We have news this morning, on which we think we can rely, coming, as it does, from gentlemen of undoubted veracity. Mr. Thos. Carr, Sheriff of Fayette county, arrived in the city, last evening, from Lexington, and makes, in substance, the following report:

He was in Richmond, Kentucky, day before yesterday, and could hear distinctly the firing of cannon all day long, and up to about eleven o'clock at night, in the direction, from Richmond, of Lancaster or Stanford.

While there, quite a large number of straggling flying rebel soldiers arrived in town, all of whom agreed in stating that the rebel army had been that day most terribly whipped. The results of the fight were stated to be, that our forces, under General Crittenden, had captured from the rebels a very large number of cattle, estimated as high as sixteen or eighteen hundred head, a large number of wagons, some twelve or fifteen hundred hills pork and flour, and immense quantities of small arms; that the rebels were routed, broken up, scattered and flying in all directions, throwing away their arms and everything else that could impede their movements.

This is the story as told in Richmond by flying rebels, but it may be considerably exaggerated.

But that a heavy fight occurred, we think, can scarcely be doubted. Other citizens of Lexington, who arrived, last night, report having heard the cannonading at Lexington, and that it appeared to be getting farther away, as of a running fight. The rebel forces are said to be those under Kirby Smith, which were acting as the rear guard of Bragg's army, removing the stores from Camp Dick Robinson. Whether all of Smith's forces were engaged or not was not stated; neither were the losses on either side, except that our forces had captured a large number of prisoners.

We should have been better pleased had the report come to us from Danville, which is not more than fifteen or eighteen miles from the battlefield; but we understood, last night, that a dispatch had been received at Headquarters, announcing a battle on Wednesday, but giving none of the particulars.

The forces engaged on our side were said to be Gen. Crittenden's corps, or a part of it—and it is fair to presume that the rest of Gen. Buell's army has gone in pursuit of Bragg, or upon parallel lines to intercept his retreat, before he shall succeed in crossing the Cumberland.

We hope to be able, this forenoon, to gain further and more satisfactory news—meaning, we think, our readers may believe the main points in the above report.

Since writing the above we have had a conversation with a gentleman, who informs us, that he knew the rebels to be moving through Lancaster, in a southeasterly direction, evidently, as we yesterday anticipated, trying to escape from the State via Maysboro, Crandall, Harpoursville, that the road through Crab Orchard was too closely watched by our forces.

We sincerely trust, while Crittenden has fallen upon the rear, near the point where the Lancaster and Mt. Vernon road crosses the road from Richmond to Somerset, that Gilbert and McCook have pushed forward from Stanford and Crab Orchard to Mt. Vernon, and there intercepted the retreat of the main body, or at least have arrived so close behind as to catch them before they can possibly reach the Cumberland river. We feel confident they will not get out of the State—confident that Buell will overtake them, force them into a fight, the result of which can be nothing else than the utter route and dispersion or capture of the rebel army.

News from Lexington, Kentucky.

The last of the rebels in Lexington was a body of about eighty cavalry, who escorted Basil Duke, John Morgan's brother-in-law, to that place on Monday night. They remained but a short time—only until Mr. Duke could go to the residence of his wife, procure a carriage, and take her away with him. They left in a private carriage, under escort of forces named.

Since then, a small rebel band was seen hovering around Lexington, in the neighborhood of the Fair Grounds. They did not enter the city, and passed out on the Richmond pike.

The train from Frankfort arrived last evening. From a reliable gentleman we learn that Capt. Slater, of the 11th Kentucky, with a company of cavalry, went out in the direction of Midway, yesterday morning, and succeeded in capturing nine of Morgan's men, with their horses, guns, etc. It is said that the country is full of small bands of guerrillas, traveling about on their own hook.

DEPARTURE OF PRISONERS.—About five hundred and fifty rebel prisoners, in charge of Capt. A. Y. Dillard and a large guard, left this city yesterday, on the steamer McComb, bound for Vicksburg, Mississippi.

MAILED HIMSELF.—G. W. Ewing, who was drafted on Monday last week, in Lapeorte county, Ind., purposely shot the fingers off his right hand, on Wednesday last, to disqualify himself from service in the army.

The locomotive Jefferson, that was used by the rebels in running a train from Frankfort to Lexington, was brought down to Frankfort, yesterday, and put away for safe keeping.

The primary and secondary departments of the First Ward School will be opened on Monday next. The room to be used for this purpose is on Jefferson street, below Wenzel.

We understand that S. I. M. Major of the Frankfort Yeoman, has given himself over in marriage. He married a Miss Scott. She is now Scott free, and a Major at that.

A lady named Opeheimer, had his hand badly cut, Wednesday, by having it caught in a straw cutter, at the agricultural works, on Market street, below Jackson.

The ladies of the Ninth Ward are requested to call at Col. Bouce's residence, at four o'clock this evening, for articles to be prepared for the wounded soldiers.

MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL.—Ninth

Boards of the City Council met last night. A great deal of business in regard to the streets was transacted in the Council. The Board of Aldermen did not do much of importance, and at 9 o'clock the two Boards met for the purpose of electing City Printer, Tobacco Inspector, and Keeper of the Workhouse. The Louisville Democrat and Louisville Journal were duly elected City Printers. The vote was cast as follows:

Democrat 23
Journal 23
Austriker 6
M. G. Holmes was re-elected Keeper of the Workhouse for the ensuing year, by a unanimous vote. The nomination for Tobacco Inspector was then announced, and the names of the following candidates were read: Messrs. Landrum, Board, English, Davis, Jones, Caruth, Harris, Allnut, Torian, Thompson, Shanks, Hayden, Lee, Gale and Cornell, which resulted in the election of Mr. H. C. Caruth. The Alternate was Robert Board. The meeting then adjourned to meet on Thursday night week.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Thursday, Oct. 16.

Mary Bryan, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct; $100 for two months. Sent to the workhouse.

Jeremiah Dues, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct; $100 for two months. Gone up.

Les. Beckwith, charged with burglary and stealing ten watches. Held over in $500 to answer a felony in the Circuit Court.

Henry Snyder, charged with stabbing Samuel Snyder, in sudden heat and passion, without previous malice. Held over in $100 to answer an indictment for misdemeanor.

Cinthy Barnum, charged with stealing $30 from Mary McCue. Discharged.

A FLAG FOR THE FIFTEENTH KENTUCKY.

We suggest to the loyal ladies of Louisville, that now is a time more fitting than ever to present the gallant men of Pope's regiment another stand of colors. If we recollect aright, when this regiment was about to leave Louisville, one year ago, the ladies presented it with a flag. It has borne that banner through the fight triumphantly, and although its silken folds are torn and tattered by the iron hail of the enemy, it is still in their possession—a dearly cherished treasure. Let it be preserved as a memento of the gallant dead who perished in the battle of Chaplin Hills. We suggest, then, that the loyal ladies of Louisville take the matter in hand, and see that the surviving heroes of that gallant regiment be presented a standard of colors worthy the great and glorious deeds it has done.

NEW BOOKS.—We have received from the well known publishing house of Peterson Brothers, Philadelphia, two very thrilling and interesting works, just issued by them. The "Twin Lieutenants, or the Soldiers' Bride," is from the gifted pen of Alexander Dumas, and is one of his most exciting and pleasing productions. The "Banditti of the Prairies, or the Murderer's Doom," is a volume full of illustrative engravings, and a splendid tale of the Mississippi valley, and thrilling adventures in the western country. This is written by Edward Bowry. Our sale—price, fifty cents each. He also is in receipt of a new supply of the "Stamp Duties," which were issued for the convenience of the public generally, neatly printed on cards—price ten cents.

We learn from a gentleman who arrived from Lexington, Kentucky, Wednesday night last, that the rebels had not entirely left Lexington up to the time he left. They have been making their appearance in squads of from twenty to twenty-five men, riding about through the city. They have an encampment at Ashland, of from 600 to 1,000 men, and are supposed to be some of Morgan's men. They are running about loose all over the country; but a larger portion of their forces left for Richmond on Tuesday night.

MAKING IT PAY.—The New Albany Ledger says that Mr. Wm. C. Dunn, of Pleasant township, Lapeorte county, was drafted last Monday, but made money by the event. He belonged to an organization in Lapeorte which was formed for the relief of those of its members which might be drafted. One thousand and forty dollars were paid in, which was to be divided pro rata among those of its members who might be drafted. Mr. Dunn was the only man, and hence will get the whole amount.

KENTUCKY REGIMENTS CONSOLIDATED.—We learn from Owensboro that the regiments of Col. Shanks and the late Col. Mitter have been consolidated at that place. The consolidation was effected last Saturday. The following are the field officers of the regiment: Colonel Shanks; Lieut. Col. Holman; 1st Major, Lightfoot; 2d Major, Kinney; 3d Major, Stout; Dr. Swan, Surgeon. The regiment, for the present, will remain at Owensboro.

A gentleman of well known medical skill, and a refugee from his home, in Kentucky, on account of his Union sentiments, is now in our city. He has passed the necessary examination and would like to obtain the place of regimental surgeon. If there is any regiment in need of the services of an experienced physician, word left at Adjutant-General Fennell's office will reach him.

LECTURE AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.—The lecture to-night cannot fail to attract a large and appreciative audience. Subject—"Physical Properties of Water." The lecture will be instructive and practical, and the experiments illustrating the subject will not fail to interest both old and young. The public are invited to be present.

SOLDIER DROWNED.—A soldier fell overboard from the steamer Mary Crane, on Wednesday night, just above the mouth of Salt river, and was drowned. His name was Blake, and he belonged to the Sixty-sixth Indiana volunteers.

COURT OF APPEALS.—The docket for the next winter's term of the Court of Appeals will be closed on Wednesday, the eleventh day of November next. All appeals filed after that day will be docketed for the summer term, 1863.

The loyal ladies of the Second Ward will please meet at Mrs. Dinwiddie's, on Market street, this Friday evening, the 17th inst., at two o'clock, for the purpose of sewing for the sick and wounded soldiers.

Special Correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette.

Louisville, Oct. 16. "Buell was pursuing Bragg who was leisurely retiring. He approached a little too close. Bragg turned and gave him a sound beating. Then quite a number of Confederates retreated while Buell stopped a little to repair damages. That is the sum of the battle at Perryville."

So says "Agate," of the Cincinnati Gazette. This fellow, "Agate," possesses a ready pen—a full flow of language, and is altogether a rather smart sort of a chap. He is smart enough, anyhow, to know the truth from a falsehood.

The proprietors of the Gazette, so far as can be judged from the calmness of that paper, employed this "Agate" to go to the armies in command of our most efficient Generals, and write back all the injurious reports—all the malicious insinuations—all the back-yard tittle-tattle, and scolding gossip, he could by any means obtain, to the end ofousting the said officers. Witness the onslaughts, full of malice, full of falsehood, full of little, sneaking mean-sneers, made by this said "Agate" upon Gen. McClellan. Having used up his stock of venom, without accomplishing his aim, his owners have now cut him to Kentucky to try the same methods with Gen. Buell. But his efforts will not avail, except to those who know nothing of his previous career. "Agate" is a rebel of the meanest, most ignominious, and seditious character—an Abolition rebel—and an Abolition rebel is as much worse than a secession rebel as night is blacker than no-day.

A DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.—If enough Republicans volunteer, and enough Democrats stay at home to vote, a Democratic victory may be wrought. This is a thing which can be demonstrated. But whether such a victory is highly honorable to the Democratic party in time of war, is a question for Democracy to ask.—Cin. Gazette, 16th.

Get you a fresh green-cake horse, that you can't show one Republican in the army, from any portion of the North, to two Democrats. Will you take the bet? You know what you insinuate to be exactly the opposite of the truth. Come, now, Gazette, try your hand at another, but don't make it such a whooper, if you expect your own most hoodwinked readers to believe it.

There will be an election held in the Seventh Ward, to-morrow, for the purpose of electing a School Trustee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Richard Cox.

An old gentleman from the country, who was driving a two-horse wagon, fell out at the corner of Hancock and Main streets, last evening, and was somewhat injured by the fall.

Dr. Bettison was brought over from the Penitentiary, at Jegeronsville, and placed in the military prison, in this city.

Thanks to Mr. Collins, of the Adams Express Company, for latest St. Louis papers.
